On May 12th, 2018 in New York's Robert F. Wagner, Jr. Park in Manhattan hundreds of New Yorkers and guests of the city welcomed and gladly watched and listened to the open air with free admission UNITY SONGS show-concert given by the internationally acclaimed Turetsky Choir and Soprano Art Group from Moscow, Russia.

The leader of the musical group Michael Turetsky itself announced this concert in New York City as a one for peace and unity between the United States of America and Russia.

Songs, which sounded in that evening, ranged from American, Russian, Jewish to classic European opera pieces.

Artists celebrated and addressed World War II Veterans, who were seated in the front rows and enjoyed the concert, with songs of that time.

Turetsky choir features a large group of male soloists with magical voices and large vocal diapason and talented musicians playing piano, guitars, violin, drums. The Soprano Art group is a woman's group with female singing voices ranging from the highest (soprano) to the lowest (mezzo-soprano) with articulated scenic-artistic productions.

A special concert preview was given at the United Nations on May 11, 2018.

The warm reception of the artists continued even under a heavy rain.
